Averett Alumni

Congratulations!

As recent graduates, you may request a one year, complimentary membership in the Averett Library Friends, including courtesy circulation privileges and the use of computer resources at the library.

We encourage alumni to continue as Library Friends through modest annual contributions. Averett Society Members are complimentary Friends of the Library.

Though contractual agreements prevent us from offering interlibrary loans or remote database access to alumni who are not enrolled in classes, Averett librarians are happy to assist you with information research.

Library Visitors

Averett is a private university whose library serves its students, their professors and the university staff.

Averett students have priority access to library resources and services. We invite neighbors 18 years of age and older to use print collections in the reading areas on the main floor of Blount Library.

Our librarians are happy to locate resources and respond to reference questions from the general public, however the library does not provide computer/internet, duplicating, or FAX services for non-affiliated patrons. Visitors whose behavior inhibits library use by Averett students may forfeit access to campus facilities.

Friends

Library Friends make annual contributions to the Mary B. Blount Library, enabling us to support academic programs and independent reading, and to enhance public areas of the library.

With annual donations of $30 or more ($50 for couples), local Friends have complimentary borrowing privileges for books in the circulating collection, and the use of designated computers.

All donations are devoted to resources for Averett students and community outreach. Friends pay their printing costs and the same late fees and fines as Averett students.

Consider honoring an educator, pastor, colleague or relative with a Library Friends gift membership.

We will apply your donation to one or more current projects:

✓ Cathy Mason Edwards Literary Fund for community book discussions
✓ Improvements to the Academic Commons
✓ Books to encourage reading beyond the curriculum.
✓ ARTstor digital access fees.
✓ JSTOR digital access fees.

Thank you for supporting Averett University and the Mary B. Blount Library! Your donations to the Averett Library Friends will enhance academic resources and services for current and future Averett students.

Welcome, Averett Society members!
You are complimentary Friends of the Library. Please ask our staff to create your library account.
